1983

ADMINISTRATION

*I*t is already tomorrow. Time, which never stops on its journey, will pass before your eyes, and in only a few moments you will be members of the community looking back on the years you spent at the "Aggie". When you do, the photos, facts and memories in this book will be your stepping stones to a happy reminiscence.

May your memories of the "Aggie" be pleasant ones, and may your futures be filled with happiness and success.

With every wish for a bright tomorrow,

Raymond Potter

Raymond F. Potter
Director

*C*ongratulations to the Class of 1983!

We are the parting of the ways, and it is an appropriate time to wish all of you the greatest success possible. You are one of the smallest classes in numbers to graduate at Essex in the past few years, but also have been one of the most challenging. The economic situation of the world and country should be no challenge for you who have learned a trade that should last you a lifetime.

Best wishes,

Coach Gene Demsey

The 1983 Soccer season was one of growth and improvement. Although it wasn't a winning season, the team showed a great deal of skill and sportsmanship. With the help of Gene Demsey, their enthusiastic and experienced coach, the tremendous effort they put forth made the school proud and the season worthwhile. Next year, the team faces the loss of three of its most loyal players - Don Crocker, Mark Smigielski, and Scott Roger.

Bottom L to R: R. Pitochelli, C.J. Maslowski, J. Kanclerowicz, P. Brennan, Coach Beth Collins.

The 1983 cross country team started the year off with determination and spirit, and kept up this outlook throughout the season. Though the team was not as large as in other years, the runners had just as much drive and team spirit.

Coach Beth Collins was a source of strength and inspiration to the team.

With the combination of such a dedicated coach and a determined team, there is no way we could have had a bad season!

The 1982-83 boys basketball team showed us a lot of drive and enthusiasm this season. John Collins and Jim Connelly helped the team a great deal with their outstanding performances and determination, and, with the help of John Harmer and John Fisher, it was an outstanding season.

Next year's team faces the loss of John Collins, John Harmer, John Fisher, and Jim Connelly.

The Girl's Basketball Team for 1983 has given us a season to be proud of. Besides playing with skill and determination, the team members have developed a closeness and respect for each other which extends to off the court hours as well.

With Coach Beth Collins to supply the skill and leadership, and Pam Knowlton to supply the enthusiasm and inspiration, the team couldn't go wrong!

Next year, the team will lose Lisa Hicks, who has played all four years.

The Boy's Junior Varsity Team improved greatly this year. This was the first year for most of the players - and for the coach too! Although inexperienced, they played with overwhelming team spirit and a great deal of determination. The team, made up primarily of freshman, was coached by Keith Moore. They showed us an outstanding season!

THE BEST PROM

EVER!!!

Graduation is the culmination of our high school education. It symbolizes our accomplishments over the last four years - it is an ending to high school and a beginning of our future. Some of us are planning to go on to college and technical schools - to begin all over again as freshman. Others in our class are going directly into careers in agriculture, something that this school has prepared us for, and still others are going into the military. We are leaving the Aggie and going in many diverse directions, but one thing that we all share are the memories of our four years at the Aggie. Graduation is also a time for remembering. Four years ago, coming from all over Essex County, we came not really knowing what to expect. We were in a strange environment, away from our home towns and the kids we grew up with. We were regular academic classes half the day - we were safe there - English and math have no surprises for a ninth grader. Mr. Kirkorian's voice may have scared a few of us, but multiplication was still multiplication. But then it was off to our agricultural classes and were we ever in for some surprises. Do you remember the shouts of disgust the first day we had to eviscerate a chicken? What a shock! Before then, my knowledge of chickens was composed of Frank Perdue commercials and what I ate for Sunday dinner. I still remember Lisa Hicks swearing that she would never eat chicken again. We were young, silly and midgets - even John Knights was small back then - We were the typical ninth graders, and thought everything was fun and an adventure. We were gullible too! We were convinced that our dreaded vegetable garden teacher lived in a place far away called Pumpkinville and could be reached in case of an emergency by dialing Pumpkin on the phone. Now how did he get us to believe that? You remember pure terror - anything Mr. Emerson said when we were freshman had to be true. Things have changed a bit. Now Mr. Heath is the scourge of the freshman class and Mr. Emerson has learned to smile occasionally.

Sophomore year flew by we were no longer the "new kids on the block" - no longer the victims of initiations or of being pushed to the back of the lunch line by the upper classman. We had established a foothold at the Aggie. Mr. Collins even began to trust us with saws - hand saws only - but we were making progress. After one summer on project, many of us made big career decisions our sophomore year. We had a better idea of who we were and what we wanted from the Aggie. That year of exploration and work as a freshman paid off. We became more confident, more knowledgeable about agriculture, and more mature. Although some of us did make trips to see the dreaded disciplinarian of all times, Mr. Zisis, for such innocent acts as throwing spitballs or smoking behind the gym - we were growing up!

I think, however that our fondest memories of the Aggie will always be of the last two years. It was junior year that we started to become, I think, the class of '83. Before then we prided ourselves in the rivalries between majors. By junior year, we were no longer a separate 3A, 3B, 3C class, we were the class of '83. We were no longer those pansy pushers, those tree monkeys, those manure shovelers, we were the class of '83. We became a united class because of the friendships that we had developed among us and especially because of our advisors, the frumpiest and grumpiest teachers of all, Ms. Hegarty, and Mr. Emerson. It was they who developed a co-hesiveness that is ours - the class of '83. We know our advisors now as "the bennevalent dictators", but in September of 1981, they were mean and tough, but they whipped us into shape. I think our class will go down in history as the class that introduced the M&M sale into the Aggie and I'm sure that Ms. Hegarty will always reign Queen of the M&M throne. Our fund raisers were successful and helped to prepare us for senior year. What prepared us even more, was that we all worked and participated in making the class of '83.

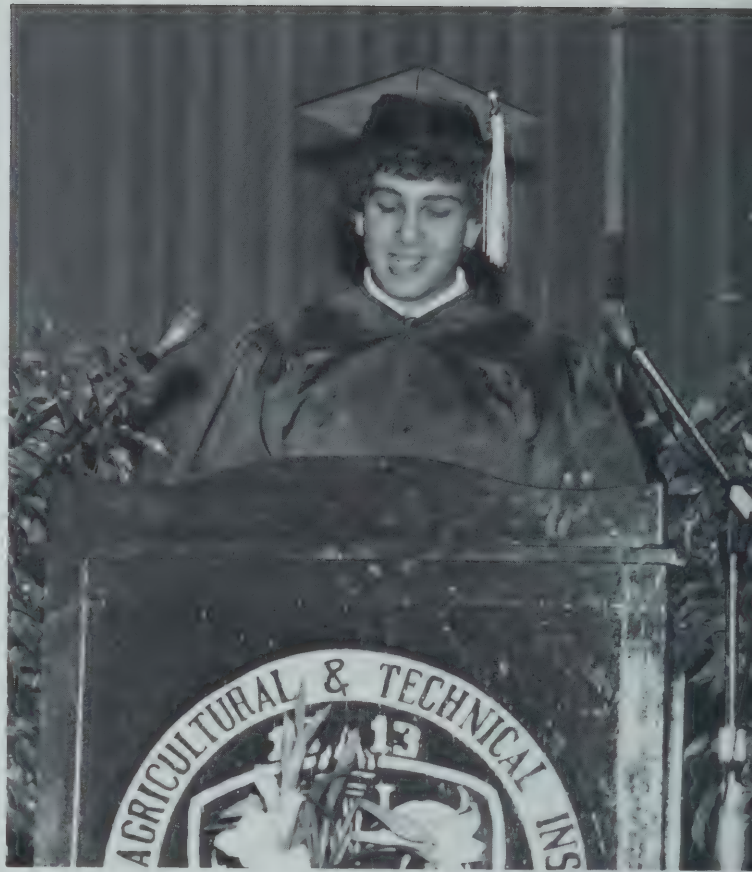

Junior year was also a tough year academically and in our agricultural classes. We had reached a point where we were expected to know and learn some highly technical aspects of agriculture. We began preparing for pesticide exams and the Babcock Test. We were becoming skilled agriculturalists, designing landscapes and horse barns. Many of us were also becoming quite involved with FFA activities, the science fair, our ag classes, and our successful fund raisers, we were becoming the class of '83.

Well, we have been the class of '83 for the last year now - and what a year it has been for us. We were now the "kingpins" of the school. We had perfected the arts of writing absent notes and dodging detentions. We were now the "big guys" who could rule the smoking area and push those "little freshman" to the back of the lunch line. We were taking college boards, setting up businesses, working to pay our way, and planning the best yearbook and the greatest prom ever. We were the class of '83 and having a great time. Remember our first big event - the christmas tree sale? That was our big investment - this could make or break us financially. We were serious and we all spent many hours in the cold, dreary weather selling trees at the stand and making wreaths at the veg garden. But it was fun too. Who will ever forget when we had a surprise visit from Santa Claus, alias Peter Brown, at our wreath making party? Who presented Mr. Emerson and Mr. Heath with the elf of the year awards - unlikely elves that they were.

And then, there was our prom. What memories we share of that night. March 16th, the Kings Grant, prime rib, and the band, Heist. After hours of arguing and planning of the time, place, and band, it turned out to be a perfect evening. Hoop skirts and tuxedos were a big change from our standard Levi's and sweatshirts. How could we miss the guest performances by our favorite Blues Brothers, Raucci and Barbeau and the outstanding performance of the Suprememes, Ms. Abbott, Hegarty, Collins and Knowlton. I hear they are still arguing over who was Diana Ross. It will always be one of our fondest memories - the prom night of the Class of '83.

Now it's graduation - our time of remembering, a time to mark our accomplishments over the last four years. We have done a lot, we have acquired many skills, we have become and are the Class of '83 and we are proud of our accomplishments. Graduation is a time when the graduates are applauded for their successes, we will gladly accept that applause, but first we, as a class, would like to pay tribute to the many people who have played such an important role in the success of the Class of '83. Graduates, please rise . . . . Let us show our thanks and respect toward our parents who have supported and guided us, to the teachers and administrators of Essex Aggie who have taught, developed, and guided us over the last four years, and to the Aggie itself for giving us a unique and wonderful education. We. The Class of '83, Thank you and applaud you.

*In the future, when we look back at the past,
We will all wonder why it went so fast.
Sitting in the classroom, with all the teachers,
Thinking that they were all preachers.*

*Freshman year was fine and dandy
Sophomore year they made us handy
Junior year went so fast
Senior year was here and past.*

*When we look back at that night,
The senior prom seemed so right.
And now that graduation day has come
We know our high school days are done.*

*We have to make sure we keep in touch
With all our friends we love so much.
We will come back to see the teachers
And thank them for being our preachers.*

It takes one tough Partner to cut the biggest jobs down to size.

If you're a professional woodsman, a weekend lumberjack, or anything in between, you need a Partner chain saw.

Every Partner chain saw is built to exacting, professional standards and specifications. For safe, smooth, and powerfully fast performance professional woodsmen expect.

Any Partner gives you high power to weight ratio, for greater performance with less fatigue. Exacting precision design. And proved in the forest reliability.

Our exclusive, fully transistorized Ignitron™ ignition system shrugs off dirt and moisture, for faster, easier starts all the time.

And, Partner's unique simplicity plus worldwide network of over 10,000 service centers will get your saw working quickly; if anything goes wrong.

See your Partner chain saw dealer before you take another cut at anything. Because a Partner can make you more of a pro.

You're more of a pro with a
